

The fine art of heating

Every Cannon heater is a masterpiece: Built by craftsmen who believe form follows function; Cannon Gas Log Heaters bring you all the warmth, atmosphere and romance of a real log fire without the mess. Simple to operate and energy efficient, there is a Cannon Gas Log Heater to suit every home.

Designed and built specifically for Australian homes and conditions, Cannon gas log heaters suit large living spaces and provide fast room heating with high energy efficiency and economy.

They can be installed virtually anywhere - for those without an existing chimney, Cannon's Mock Fireplace kit allows a heater to be safely installed into a combustible wall and flued through the wall cavity.

Along with ease of installation, safety is also a high priority in the design of Cannon heaters and all models are fitted with either a protective mesh guard or a double glazed glass window.

The 2010 models offer more innovative changes with electronic switching on all Cannon heaters and optional remote thermostat controls available. The Fitzroy models all have a new "wide screen" look and slimmer profile, while also offering double glazed glass as an option, allowing you to interchange between the mesh and glass fascias easily. Finally, the black Fitzroy inbuilt models can also be converted into Freestanding models by purchasing the Freestanding Kit.

Smooth, curved lines exemplify the workmanship of the Canterbury range. Designed to fit into any existing wall cavity each of our two models offers a trio of fan speeds, heat settings and electronic switches. Choose from free-standing or in-built and still enjoy double-glazed glass, an enhanced flame effect and the option of a remote thermostat.

These new models ensure a perfect fit in all environments from sleek urban abodes to classically furnished rustic homes. Realistic eucalypt logs and a natural flame appearance complete the package for a true masterpiece this winter.
